Nevada Ranchman Sues to Recover

Money Lost at Crap.

Paul Byron, a Nevada ranchman who arrived in Salt Lake City a few days ago with a bank roll, has filed suit against the proprietors of the Green Light gambling house for the recovery of $90 which he says he dropped in the house. This is not all he lost, according to his story, but he alleges in the complaint that a "rounder" for the house "stuck" him in a crap game for the above amount.

The complaint was filed yesterday before Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith, and names Frank Moore, George Bentley and Ralph Cotton as the decrease in the action.
